1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

(a) The epoxy resins such as the bisphenol F epoxy resin shown in the specification, page 24, Table 1, Example 1, Epoxy Resin A of the specification according to page 25, lines 3-4.

(b1) The phenol compounds of the latent catalyst such as the 4,4-dihydroxydiphenylsulfone designated as the Phenol compound A of Example 1 as identified on page 25 and denoted as bisphenol S in claim 7.

(b2) The organic metal compounds such as the zirconium tetraacetylacetonate identified as Metal complex A of Example 1 disclosed on page 25.

(d) The inorganic fillers such as the silica of of Example 1 set forth on page 26, lines 3-4.

(e) The dispositions of the composition selected from either one of claims 9-12.

The species are independent or distinct because the epoxy resins, phenol compounds, metal complexes and inorganic fillers are generic to a variety of chemically distinct species requiring burdensome searches within classes 523 and 525. The dispositions of the composition necessitate myriad searches within class 429.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species within each of items (a), (b1), (b2), (d) and (e) hereinabove for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-16 are generic.

A reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

A telephone call was made to Roland E. Martin on March 27, 2006 to request an oral election to the above restriction and election of species requirements, but did not result in elections being made. The reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

2. The term "type" used to define the zirconium compound in claims 4, 7 and 18 renders the metes and bounds of the compound unclear since it embraces derivatives and modifications not contemplated. The term should be deleted to avoid a potential rejection under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Robert Sellers whose telephone number is (571) 272-1093. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Friday from 9:30 to 6:00. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is (571) 273-8300.
